

Load Test Frame Berry Street Project, San Francisco, CA

Frame during 1040-kip load test.

Ben C. Gerwick, Inc. was retained by Foundation Constructors, Inc. to conduct a certification of a load test frame for the 355 Berry St. Project.

The work included evaluation of soil borings, determining reaction pile capacity and tension pile capacity, and recommendations on penetrations.

Services Performed:

- Geotechnical Engineering
- WEAP analysis

Year of Completion: 2006

Construction Cost: $1M

Client: Foundation Constructors, Inc.

Installation of foundation piles.